

Section 6(b) of the Act, the identities of the parties are Atlantic Richfield Company, Anaheim, CA; California Air Resources Board, Sacramento, CA; Engine Manufacturer's Association, Chicago, IL; Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, MI; National Propane Gas Association, Scottsdale, AZ; Natural Resources Canada—Canmet Energy Technology Centre, Ottawa, Ontario, CANADA; Propane Gas Association of Canada, Calgary, CANADA; Railroad Commission of Texas—Alternative Fuels Research & Education Division, Austin, TX; Shell Martinez Refining Company, Martinez, CA; The Adept Group, Inc., Los Angeles, CA; Tosco Refining Company, Martinez, CA; and Western Propane Gas Association, Sacramento, CA.

The California Air Resources Board ("ARB") approved a delay for a 5 percent propene limit on liquefied petroleum gases ("LPG") used as a motor vehicle fuel and directed ARB staff to investigate the feasibility of alternative specification of in-use motor vehicle LPG. An alternative may be adopted to the present ARB standard (based on equivalence of emissions, performance, and durability). ARB formed an LPG Task Group to direct the organization and implementation of the investigations. (LPG Task Group members are the parties identified above.) The Adept Group, Inc. serves as Project Manager.

The LPG Task Group and test program will determine if alternative specifications to proposed ARB standards for motor vehicle grade LPG will provide equivalent or better emissions, performance, and durability in existing engines. The task group and program will evaluate various LPG blends to determine if there are equivalent specifications that would address supply and distribution concerns for users and suppliers of LPG motor vehicles. The Blends Evaluation Test Program will include emissions testing, performance, combustion testing, and durability testing.

The parties plan to perform acts allowed by the National Cooperative Research and Production Act that would advance these goals.

Information regarding participation in the LPG Blends Evaluation Test Program may be obtained from Mr. Alex Sparatu, President, The Adept Group, Inc., 1575 Westwood Blvd., Suite 200, Los Angeles, CA 90024-5620.
